Risk Profile

Moderate-High Risk

This portfolio holds more equity exposure than a medium risk portfolio but less than a high-risk portfolio. In turn the expected volatility is higher than a medium risk portfolio, but less than a high-risk portfolio. The probability of losses is higher than that of a medium risk portfolio, but less than a high-risk portfolio and the expected potential long term investment returns could therefore be higher than a medium risk portfolio. Where the asset allocation contained in this MDD reflects offshore exposure, the portfolio is exposed to currency risks. The portfolio is exposed to equity as well as default and interest rate risks. Therefore, it is suitable for medium to long term investment horizons.

Annualised return is the weighted average compound growth rate over the period measured.

Fund Objective

The Saffron BCI Flexible Fund is a flexible portfolio that aims to deliver a high long-term total return by investing across asset classes.

The Saffron BCI Flexible Fund delivered a flat quarter, in line with the market, returning 0.15%, with the fund remaining relatively underweight equity given the lack of upside potential over the period.

Markets were again volatile in the second quarter, with the Tech sector largely being the headline industry of the quarter as AI drew significant returns linked to the new technology (Nvidia being the largest beneficiary). Locally we continue to struggle with loadshedding, albeit at lower levels than before, and geopolitical risk remains, with all eyes on the AGOA summit later this quarter as the US continues to take issue with South Africa's policy ambiguity towards Russia. The geopolitical risks saw the Rand tumble significantly in the quarter against DM currencies, resulting in a significant lag in domestic only funds.

Global Markets were mixed over the period, with marked strength from Japan and the US Information Tech sector (Nikkei Returning 18.36% and S&P Info Tech 16.93%), weakness out of China and Chinese Tech (-7.27%) and muted returns from the rest of the world. The All-Share and Top 40 had offsetting gains and losses between sectors, with SA linked stocks falling off their low bases and miners continuing to slip. The All-share returned 0.66% and the Top40 returned 0.95% for the quarter.

Asset classes on the JSE were mixed over the period, with the RESI20 again being the worst performer of the major indexes (returning -6.4% for the period) while the INDI25 returned 3.7%. The standout over the quarter was the FINI index (5.97%) as SA banks rallied from lower bases. The RESI underperformance can largely be attributed to softer oil pricing (which has since risen higher), as well as lower PGM basket prices and Gold prices coming off highs. The biggest individual story was the restructuring of Naspers and Prosus, causing the shares to rally c.13% and 7% respectively since the announcement in the last week of the quarter.

Notably, the All-Share and Top40 Indexes were rebalanced to only take into account investable South African market caps, effectively downweighting Richemont in the indexes by nearly 20%. This reduces some of the rand hedge/SA diversification built into the indexes, as the Top40 is now significantly more linked to miners, Naspers and SA linked stocks. This occurred after Richemont had already rallied over 80% over the year prior, effectively locking in gains to that point.

The Saffron BCI Flexible Fund slightly underperformed the benchmark for the quarter. The fund remains ahead of the ALSI YTD and ahead of both benchmark and ALSI over a rolling year period.
